

MEMORANDUM FOR: The Director of the Budget

On 27 May the President requested the heads of executive departments and agencies to instruct their representatives in the field in accordance with the President's letter of 29 May to the chiefs of diplomatic missions.

In this connection Executive Order No. 10893 of 8 November 1960, and Section 201 in particular, also deals with the functions of the United States diplomatic missions.

The heads of executive departments and agencies should be reminded that foreign intelligence activities are governed by National Security Council Intelligence Directives and other pertinent directives, memoranda and procedures. Nothing in the above cited executive order, letter, or memorandum should be construed as superseding these existing arrangements.

A draft memorandum for the President's signature to the Secretary of State, Secretary of Defense, and the Director, Central Intelligence Agency, is attached for your consideration. Until such time as Executive Order 10893 is rescinded or revised, interim instructions dealing with foreign intelligence activities would seem advisable. ¶ The Secretary of State and the Secretary of Defense may prefer to send such instructions with or without a memorandum ~~for~~ the President. In this latter event this Agency recommends that the draft memorandum for the President's signature be the basis for instructions ~~for~~ the Department of State and the Department of Defense. ⁸⁷

Allen W. Dulles

C O N F I D E N T I A L
The White House

Washington

15 June 1961

MEMORANDUM FOR

THE SECRETARY OF STATE
THE SECRETARY OF DEFENSE
THE DIRECTOR, CENTRAL INTELLIGENCE AGENCY

On 27 May, I requested the heads of executive departments and agencies to instruct their representatives in the field in accordance with my letters of 29 May to our ambassadors.

In this connection, your attention is directed to Section 201 of Executive Order No. 10893, dated 8 November 1960, dealing with the Mutual Security Act of 1954, as amended. It reads as follows:

"Section 201. Functions of Chiefs of United States Diplomatic Missions. The several Chiefs of the United States Diplomatic Missions in foreign countries, as the representatives of the President and acting on his behalf, shall have and exercise, to the extent permitted by law and in accordance with such instructions as the President may from time to time promulgate, affirmative responsibility for the coordination and supervision over the carrying out by agencies of their functions in the respective countries."

This section, my letter of 29 May, and your instructions to the field are not intended to supersede existing arrangements with respect to foreign intelligence activities, which are governed by National Security Council intelligence directives and other pertinent directives, regulations, and procedures.

JOHN F. KENNEDY

C O N F I D E N T I A L

CONFIDENTIAL

MEMORANDUM FOR: Director
Bureau of the Budget

1. On 27 May the President requested the heads of executive departments and agencies to instruct their representatives in the field in accordance with the President's letter of 29 May to the chiefs of diplomatic missions.

2. In this connection, Executive Order 10893 of 8 November 1960, and Section 201 in particular, also deals with the functions of the United States diplomatic missions.

3. The heads of executive departments and agencies should be reminded that foreign intelligence activities are governed by National Security Council Intelligence Directives and other pertinent directives, memoranda, and procedures. Nothing in the above cited Executive Order, letter, or memorandum should be construed as superseding these existing arrangements.

4. A draft memorandum for the President's signature to the Secretary of State, Secretary of Defense, and the Director of Central Intelligence Agency, is attached for your consideration. Until such time as Executive Order 10893 is rescinded or revised, interim instructions dealing with foreign intelligence activities would seem advisable. The Secretary of State and the Secretary of Defense may prefer to send such instructions with or without a memorandum from the President. In this latter event, this Agency recommends that the draft memorandum for the President's signature be the basis for instructions by the Department of State and the Department of Defense.

ALLEN W. DULLES
Director

CONFIDENTIAL

MEMORANDUM FOR: Director
Bureau of the Budget

1. On 27 May the President requested the heads of executive departments and agencies to instruct their representatives in the field in accordance with the President's letter of 29 May to the chiefs of diplomatic missions.

2. In this connection, Executive Order 10893 of 8 November 1960, and Section 201 in particular, also deals with the functions of the United States diplomatic missions.

3. The heads of executive departments and agencies should be reminded that foreign intelligence activities are governed by National Security Council Intelligence Directives and other pertinent directives, memoranda, and procedures. Nothing in the above cited Executive Order, letter, or memorandum should be construed as superseding these existing arrangements.

4. A draft memorandum for the President's signature to the Secretary of State, Secretary of Defense, and the Director of Central Intelligence Agency, is attached for your consideration. Until such time as Executive Order 10893 is rescinded or revised, interim instructions dealing with foreign intelligence activities would seem advisable. The Secretary of State and the Secretary of Defense may prefer to send such instructions with or without a memorandum from the President. In this latter event, this Agency recommends that the draft memorandum for the President's signature be the basis for instructions by the Department of State and the Department of Defense.

ALLEN W. DULLES
Director

DRAFT

C O N F I D E N T I A L

MEMORANDUM FOR:

THE SECRETARY OF STATE
THE SECRETARY OF DEFENSE
THE DIRECTOR, CENTRAL INTELLIGENCE AGENCY

On 27 May, I requested the heads of executive departments and agencies to instruct their representatives in the field in accordance with my letter of 29 May to our ambassadors.

In this connection, your attention is directed to Section 201 of Executive Order No. 10893, dated 8 November 1960, dealing with the Mutual Security Act of 1954, as amended. It reads as follows:

"Section 201. Functions of Chiefs of United States Diplomatic Missions.

The several Chiefs of the United States Diplomatic Missions in foreign countries, as the representatives of the President and acting on his behalf, shall have and exercise, to the extent permitted by law and in accordance with such instructions as the President may from time to time promulgate, affirmative responsibility for the coordination and supervision over the carrying out by agencies of their functions in the respective countries."

This section, my letter of 29 May, and your instructions to the field are not intended to supersede existing arrangements with respect to foreign intelligence activities, which are governed by National Security Council intelligence directives and other pertinent directives, regulations, and procedures.

C O N F I D E N T I A L

DRAFT

MEMORANDUM FOR: Director
Bureau of the Budget

1. On 27 May the President requested the heads of executive departments and agencies to instruct their representatives in the field in accordance with the President's letter of 29 May to the chiefs of diplomatic missions.

2. In this connection, Executive Order 10893 of 8 November 1960, and Section 201 in particular, also deals with the functions of the United States diplomatic missions.

3. The heads of executive departments and agencies should be reminded that foreign intelligence activities are governed by National Security Council Intelligence Directives and other pertinent directives, memoranda, and procedures. Nothing in the above cited Executive Order, letter, or memorandum should be construed as superseding these existing arrangements.

4. A draft memorandum for the President's signature to the Secretary of State, Secretary of Defense, and the Director of Central Intelligence Agency, is attached for your consideration. Until such time as Executive Order 10893 is rescinded or revised, interim instructions dealing with foreign intelligence activities would seem advisable. The Secretary of State and the Secretary of Defense may prefer to send such instructions with or without a memorandum from the President. In this latter event, this Agency recommends that the draft memorandum for the President's signature be the basis for instructions by the Department of State and the Department of Defense.

ALLEN W. DULLES
Director

DRAFT

C O N F I D E N T I A L

MEMORANDUM FOR:

THE SECRETARY OF STATE
THE SECRETARY OF DEFENSE
THE DIRECTOR, CENTRAL INTELLIGENCE AGENCY

On 27 May, I requested the heads of executive departments and agencies to instruct their representatives in the field in accordance with my letter of 29 May to our ambassadors.

In this connection, your attention is directed to Section 201 of Executive Order No. 10893, dated 8 November 1960, dealing with the Mutual Security Act of 1954, as amended. It reads as follows:

"Section 201. Functions of Chiefs of United States Diplomatic Missions.

The several Chiefs of the United States Diplomatic Missions in foreign countries, as the representatives of the President and acting on his behalf, shall have and exercise, to the extent permitted by law and in accordance with such instructions as the President may from time to time promulgate, affirmative responsibility for the coordination and supervision over the carrying out by agencies of their functions in the respective countries."

This section, my letter of 29 May, and your instructions to the field are not intended to supersede existing arrangements with respect to foreign intelligence activities, which are governed by National Security Council intelligence directives and other pertinent directives, regulations, and procedures.

C O N F I D E N T I A L

DRAFT

CONFIDENTIAL

MEMORANDUM FOR: Director
Bureau of the Budget

1. On 27 May the President requested the heads of executive departments and agencies to instruct their representatives in the field in accordance with the President's letter of 29 May to the chiefs of diplomatic missions.
2. In this connection, Executive Order 10893 of 8 November 1960, and Section 201 in particular, also deals with the functions of the United States diplomatic missions.
3. The heads of executive departments and agencies should be reminded that foreign intelligence activities are governed by National Security Council Intelligence Directives and other pertinent directives, memoranda, and procedures. Nothing in the above cited Executive Order, letter, or memorandum should be construed as superseding these existing arrangements.
4. A draft memorandum for the President's signature to the Secretary of State, Secretary of Defense, and the Director of Central Intelligence Agency, is attached for your consideration. Until such time as Executive Order 10893 is rescinded or revised, interim instructions dealing with foreign intelligence activities would seem advisable. The Secretary of State and the Secretary of Defense may prefer to send such instructions with or without a memorandum from the President. In this latter event, this Agency recommends that the draft memorandum for the President's signature be the basis for instructions by the Department of State and the Department of Defense.

ALLEN W. DULLES
Director

CONFIDENTIAL

DRAFT

C O N F I D E N T I A L

MEMORANDUM FOR:

THE SECRETARY OF STATE
THE SECRETARY OF DEFENSE
THE DIRECTOR, CENTRAL INTELLIGENCE AGENCY

On 27 May, I requested the heads of executive departments and agencies to instruct their representatives in the field in accordance with my letter of 29 May to our ambassadors.

In this connection, your attention is directed to Section 201 of Executive Order No. 10893, dated 8 November 1960, dealing with the Mutual Security Act of 1954, as amended. It reads as follows:

"Section 201. Functions of Chiefs of United States Diplomatic Missions.

The several Chiefs of the United States Diplomatic Missions in foreign countries, as the representatives of the President and acting on his behalf, shall have and exercise, to the extent permitted by law and in accordance with such instructions as the President may from time to time promulgate, affirmative responsibility for the coordination and supervision over the carrying out by agencies of their functions in the respective countries."

This section, my letter of 29 May, and your instructions to the field are not intended to supersede existing arrangements with respect to foreign intelligence activities, which are governed by National Security Council intelligence directives and other pertinent directives, regulations, and procedures.

C O N F I D E N T I A L

DRAFT